Chi O And Kappa Sig Win SX Best Dressed Contest

Chi Omega's Barbaranelle Paxton and Kappa Sigma's Michael Conner were selected the best dressed woman and man at Sigma Chi's Style Show and Best Dressed Contest, April 26 at Memorial Hall.

Jane Brock of Alpha Delta Pi and Bill Hughes of Delta Tau Delta were awarded second place. The winners each received $125, while the runners-up won prizes of $75.

Other finalists in the sorority division were Evelyn O'Dell (Alpha Gamma Delta), Patty Harper (Delta Delta Delta), Janet Calhoun (Delta Zeta), and Moira Quinn (Kappa Kappa Gamma).

James Farris (Kappa Alpha), Thomas Schmidt (Phi Delta Theta), Don Williams (Sigma Alpha Epsilon), and Julius Martin (Sigma Phi Epsilon) were the other fraternity finalists.

Bill Jackson was chairman of the show. Eston Campbell supervised the erection of the set and David Walker was business manager.

Jerry Bradley was Master of Ceremonies. Mrs. Ann Jones and Walker were commentators for the Style Show. Approximately 900 attended.

Engineers' Day Will Be May 10

UK's College of Engineering will hold the annual Engineer's Day on Friday, May 10, in Anderson Hall and the various engineering laboratories. Dr. Ernest Spokes, professor of mining and metallurgy, announced this week.

Engineers' Day is an open house in which the public may inspect the work done by engineering students, the facilities available for engineering students, and the college as a whole.

Last year, several thousand visitors attended the open house. This year, invitations have been sent to 2,300 high school seniors, almost 500 members of high school engineering clubs, and to the 120 county agents in the state. All students and faculty from the University are automatically invited, and any of the public who are interested, Spokes said.

Two new departments, chemical engineering and agricultural engineering, have been added to the college this year. They, and all other departments, will have displays of student projects set up in Anderson Hall.

Some of the projects on display will include the making of synthetic fiber (rayon), a DuPont rubber exhibit, a smoke precipitator, a device to transmit the voice by light, and a closed circuit television.

Several outside agencies will have displays, including those from the U. S. Engineering Corps at Louisville and the State Department of Mines and Minerals.

The open house will last from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. and from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. A door prize will be given and free refreshments will be served in Anderson Hall.

Free transportation will be provided for those who wish to visit

Purdue Dean To Address Fraternities

Dean of Men O. D. Roberts of Purdue University will speak to all-fraternity convocation at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 8, at Memorial Hall.

The convocation, the first of its kind here at UK, is sponsored by the Interfraternity Council. Its purpose is to help develop interfraternity spirit and unity.

Roberts' speech will deal with the problems and future of the fraternity system.

Roberts was promoted to dean of men at Purdue last year after serving as assistant dean of men there since 1952. For four and one-half years prior to that, he was dean of men at the University of Oklahoma.

He received his undergraduate degree from the University of Illinois and his master's degree from Northwestern University.

He has long been an enthusiastic supporter of the nationwide fraternity system, and speaks to fraternity groups all over the country.

Room Phones For Dorms Seem Certain

It appears almost certain that telephones will be installed in individual rooms of the men's dormitories at UK, according to information received from Dean of Men Leslie L. Martin this week.

Martin said that more than 600 dormitory residents were interviewed and 90 per cent of them were in favor of the proposed phone installation.

If adopted, the system, which would entail installing about 435 extensions, will go into effect in September.

Present telephone rates are $1.50 a month for each extension. The cost would be shared by students who live in the rooms.

Until September, the dormitory phones will remain in operation with one telephone for every 10 rooms.

The plan now being considered was chosen by students in preference to the alternative of keeping the present system indefinitely.

Martin offered the two plans for consideration after University officials ordered phone service in the dormitories discontinued due to damage to Donovan Hall phones April 12.

At that time a person or persons as yet unidentified, damaged all 26 telephones there to the extent that repairs were estimated at $150. Martin said any further repairs due to vandalism would be paid for on a pro rated basis from deposits made by dormitory men.

Marlene Begley Presented Award

Marlene Begley was awarded the Lexington Junior League Merit Award in Music Education this year. The award was presented to Miss Begley at a UK Music Department assembly Tuesday. Mrs. Weldon Shouse, radio chairman of the Junior League, conducted the ceremony.

Miss Begley is a junior music student at the University of Kentucky. A graduate of Model High School in Richmond, she recently was chosen for membership in Mortar Board, senior women's leadership honorary-fraternity.

The award goes annually to a UK junior on the basis of scholarship, character and professional promise as a music educator. The $250 grant is used for tuition and applied music fees during the student's senior year.

Miss Begley is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Begley of Richmond. She is a member of Chi Omega social sorority and is a member of the UK student chapter of the Music Education National Conference. Honorary fraternities include Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman scholarship honorary; Cwens, sophomore honorary, and Phi Beta professional music fraternity.

THE THUNDERING MARCH OF PROGRESS

Today, as everyone knows, is the forty-sixth anniversary of the founding of Gransmire College for Women which, as everyone knows, was the first Progressive Education college in the United States.

Well do I recollect the tizzy in the academic world when Gransmire first opened its portals! What a buzz there was, what a brouhaha in faculty common rooms, what a rattling of teacups, when Dr. Agnes Thudd Sigafous, first president of Gransmire, lifted her shaggy head and announced defiantly, "This here is no stuffy, old-fashioned college. This here, by gum, is Progressive Education. We will teach the student, not the course. There will be no marks, no exams, no requirements. We will break the iron mold of orthodoxy, hey!"

Well sir, forward-looking maidens all over the country cast off their fetters and came rushing to New Hampshire to enroll at Gransmire. Here they found freedom. They broadened their vistas. They lengthened their horizons. They unstopped their bottled personalities. They roamed the campus in togas, leading ocelots on leashes.

And, of course, they smoked Philip Morris. (I say "of course." Why do I say "of course"? I say "of course" because it is a matter of course that anyone in search of freedom should naturally turn to Philip Morris, for Philip Morris is a natural smoke, with no filter to get in the way of its true tobacco taste.)

But all was not Philip Morris and ocelots. There was work and study too — not in the ordinary sense, for there were no formal classes. Instead there was a broad approach to enlarging each girl's potentials.

Take the course called Basic Motor Skills

Take, for example, the course called B.M.S. (Basic Motor Skills). B.M.S. was divided into L.D. (Lying Down), S.U. (Standing Up) and W. (Walking). Once the student had mastered L.D. and S.U., she was taught to W. — but not just to W. any old way! No, sir! She was taught to W. with poise, dignity, bearing! To inculcate a sense of balance in the girl, she began her exercises by walking with a suitcase in each hand. (One girl, Mary Ellen Dorgenicht, got so good at it that today she is bell, canteen at the Dinkler-Plaza Hotel in Atlanta, Georgia.)

When the girls had walking under their belts, they were allowed to dance. Again no formality was imposed. They were simply told to fling themselves about in any way their impulses dictated, and believe you me, it was quite an impressive sight to see them go bounding into the woods with their togas flying. (Several later joined the U. S. Forestry Service.)

There was also a lot of finger painting and gourd rattling and sculpture with coat hangers and all like that, and soon the fresh wind of Progressivism came whistling out of Gransmire to blow the ancient dust of pedantry off curricula everywhere, and today, thanks to the pioneers at Gransmire, we are all free, every man-jack of us.

If you are ever in New Hampshire, be sure to visit the Gransmire campus. It is now a tannery.

© Max Shulman, 1957

And be sure to light a Philip Morris when you visit Gransmire, or anywhere else for that matter, because Philip Morris is always a naturally perfect companion and brings you this column each week and is ignitable at either end.

Students' Party Is Best For SGA

Last fall, the Kernel supported editorially one of the campus parties in the SGA election.

For this, we were roundly criticized. Most of the criticism seemed to stem from the feeling that the Kernel, as a newspaper for all the students, should not take sides in an issue such as the SGA election.

We accepted this criticism thoughtfully, and attempted to evaluate for ourselves its validity.

We came to the conclusion that the Kernel, while certainly a student publication, is nevertheless a newspaper. And we don't think any newspaper worth its salt can afford to remain neutral in its editorial policy on any issue which directly affects the vast majority of its readers. Independent, certainly. But neutral, never.

With this in mind, we have attempted to evaluate the candidates, particularly those for the Assembly's two highest offices; the parties; and the platforms of these parties.

We believe, earnestly and sincerely, that the party which can do most for SGA—can most benefit the populace of the University of Kentucky—is the Students' Party.

We believe this without misgivings, without hesitation, without equivocation.

We say this with the acute realization that in Stan Chauvin, the Constitutional Party has one of the most able campaigners this campus has ever seen.

Chauvin is a good man—one who certainly would bring no discredit to the office he seeks. But Dave Ravencraft is also a good man—and Ravencraft has the additional advantage of being backed by what we firmly believe is the more progressive, the more forward looking party of the two.

We cannot, with any degree of rationalization, disassociate the candidates from the parties they represent—we cannot isolate the parties from the platforms they advocate.

We would certainly not claim that the Students' Party platform is not slightly nebulous in parts, as indeed all political platforms have been since time immemorial. Neither would we presume that they will immediately put into effect all the planks they advocate.

But we firmly believe that the platform of the Students' Party shows a degree of clear thinking, of progressiveness, of awareness of students' needs that is not apparent in the platform of their opponents.

We believe, too, that Dave Ravencraft is a highly capable person in whom to invest the power of SGA president. His record as Judiciary Committee chairman has been excellent—few who have come before him have had occasion to question his judgment, to our knowledge.

As vice president of SGA for a year, Ravencraft has had an opportunity to closely examine the needs of the Assembly and to formulate intelligent ideas on how it can be improved.

We believe that with the right support, Ravencraft can, and will, "improve the effectiveness" of SGA, if such an ethereal phase can be used.

We believe that if the presiding officer of a governing organization is to receive the support he deserves, it must come from the party he represents.

And we believe that upon close examination, the greater strength of Students' Party can be clearly seen.

For these reasons, we believe that a vote for Dave Ravencraft, Pete Perlman, and the entire Students' Party is a vote for a better SGA.

The Next Prank?

When Are Boys No Longer Boys?

There seems to be a growing attitude among some students, or groups of students, on the campus that the panacea for all rules infractions is a simple statement that "boys will be boys", or words to that effect.

The most recent time we heard the phrase was a week ago Wednesday night, when it was given as an excuse for the partial destruction of all 26 phones in Donovan Hall April 11.

We certainly would not set ourselves up as judges of all student behavior, nor would we moralize, since to do so would fall in the realm of hypocrisy. Neither do we preach abstinence from all but deadly serious pursuits, since to lead such a life would foredoom an early grave, in all probability.

But we would, in passing, wonder at just what point "schoolboy pranks" cease to be pranks and fall into the category of willful destruction.

It is very probable that Dean of Men Leslie L. Martin unwittingly set the tone for the students' attitude when, in speaking of the bomb incident in Donovan Hall last January, he said the perpetrators of the incident were "essentially good boys" who tried to "make a big firecracker for the thrill."

But we find it a little difficult to blame Martin too much, since he may have been a little gun-shy due to the epithets of "authoritarian" which have been hurled at him from all sides practically since he assumed his present post.

Indeed, we find it hard to affix the blame squarely on any one's shoulders for the collective student shoulder shrugging which invariably follows such "pranks" as ripped chairs, torn down towel racks, false fire alarms (which seem to occur with astonishing regularity at Donovan Hall) and fires set in strategically placed waste paper baskets—a fair sampling of the "more humorous" incidents which have occurred in our men's residence halls since the opening of school.

One dormitory authority recently said that a partial solution to the problem would be to increase the punishment-levying power of dormitory supervisors—that the lack of effective power at the present created a situation whereby residents could "laugh in the monitors' faces."

This solution we're not too sure of, since some monitors, we are afraid, would merely use the increased power to their own advantage.

But this we do know—the boys who engage in the most flagrant "pranks" should be made to realize that even they can be replaced—although at present it doesn't seem that too many are being.

We suppose that if the day ever comes when Donovan Hall is blasted to smithereens by a home-made bomb, it will just be another incident where "boys were boys."

A Tribute

The longer a person travels through this world of ours, the more he comes to appreciate persons who are sincere, honest, and above hypocrisy and deceit.

Such a person is Dick Lehman, outgoing president of SGA.

We have long admired Lehman, although we have certainly not always agreed with him. We have heretofore abstained from personal praise, for fear some of the narrow-minded in our midst would scream of collusion, or bias.

We could go into long, detailed accounts of what we think some of Lehman's accomplishments have been since his inauguration as SGA president. We would perhaps begin with the job he did in rewriting the Constitution, a task he virtually performed alone. We could continue with some of the battles he has fought in an attempt to make SGA more effective, although it must be admitted he has lost some of these battles, and perhaps used the wrong strategy in others.

Or, we could tell of the times we have disagreed with Lehman, with the best example being the much-discussed later hours issue, when we thought he, and SGA, made a major mistake, and told him so.

But rather than continuing in this vein, we would rather tell of the times we have seen Lehman severely criticized, of the times we have seen him defeated, or the times we have seen him completely frustrated in the face of opposition, both faculty and student—but have never seen him bitter or antagonistic, but always smiling, earnest, and sincere in a desire to "do better next time."

Whether or not Lehman has been one of the more successful presidents in SGA's history, we do not care to debate. But we do know that in our four years at the University of Kentucky, we can count on the fingers of one hand the persons who have impressed us as much with their personal attributes as has Lehman.

So, as he leaves office, we would bestow one accolade on Lehman. An accolade which is certainly not original, but one which is more than appropriate in his case.

We would say, "there, students of the University of Kentucky, goes a man."

Cadets At Commencement Add To Crowd And Confusion

By PHIL MCINTOSH

About this time every year, a certain group of students begin wondering if they will again be required to attend commencement exercises. We refer to the ROTC students.

In a phone interview Tuesday, President Dickey stated that no plans had been made and he did not think the ROTC would attend this year.

With this hope for the emancipation of the ROTC student we are very pleased. And since we have, by some demented few, been accused of being bitter and sarcastic, we will explain this "rare" feeling of happiness.

Immediately we admit we are against ROTC attendance because we can see no reason for it, other than to have an impressive crowd at the ceremony. If an impressive crowd is the desired result, it is hardly achieved through the sometimes disorderly conduct of that captive audience.

If this writer ever graduates, he will care only for the presence of his family, loved one, and friends who have some interest in that event. He will not care to see rows of stalwart men in blue and brown and green, each one wondering, "Why was I born?" and seriously considering suicide.

If we were ever to speak at a Commencement, we would much rather address an audience attending of its own free will, with some interest in what is being said. We would not care to try to overcome the disturbance of that captive audience thinking in unison how nice it would be if the speaker and all concerned would quietly drop dead.

UK is big enough. Too often the student is lost in the crowd. Why not have a small, quiet, serious graduation?

When you vote Wednesday, keep these things in mind. Three of the eight planks of the Constitutional platform are nailed to wagons neither built nor pushed by the Constitutional party.

Plank number one proposes an investigation of the UK calendar to insure that students working during vacations will not be penalized for missing classes. It has already been agreed to have an SGA representative work with the planning committee to avoid such problems.

Plank number three proposes that ROTC be excused from compulsory attendance at Commencement. From the first of this article you know that it isn't likely they will attend this year. And from all indications, the Constitutional Party had nothing to do with it.

Plank number six proposes that the city of Lexington carry through plans to repair the Avenue of Champions (Euclid Avenue), and install student crossings. First, SGA has no authority over the city of Lexington, which already has on its agenda the repair of this street as soon as Holmes Hall is finished. The heavy equipment used in construction of this dormitory would destroy the pavement were it refinished.

Now, we would like to take you to that small building, next to the men's dorm quadrangle, known as the "Slop Shop," "The Green Hornet," and "Ptomaine's Tavern."

This little restaurant has been criticized as being filthy, unsanitary, sloppy, and even an unfit place to eat. We decided to investigate.

Not seeing anything unsanitary, or unusual to the average small restaurant, we began asking questions. People who eat there regularly said the place is kept reasonably clean. But then they wouldn't eat there if they were not of this opinion.

It has been rumored that the hole in the counter for the disposal of waste and scraps leads directly to an open sewer. An interesting tale such as this makes an easily acceptable rumor. But it is not true.

One specific criticism is that money is handled and laid upon the same table used to make sandwiches. But when the same hand that handles the money also prepares the food, does it matter where either food or money are laid? To solve this problem would require installment of a separate cashier system. This is uncommon in restaurants even twice the size of the Men's Dorm Grill.

Therefore we find the grill reasonably clean. The only fault we found during our adventure is that the coffee was not too sterling. But is it anywhere? AND THAT'S IT!

Flurton Instigates Run For The Roses

By JOHN MARCUS

Flitterus J. Flurton was an exceptional young man. He was exceptional because he hadn't eaten anything in eight days and he was still alive.

Flit (as the boys at the brass rail called him) was not eating regularly because he was in a risky business. He was a promoter. When there was nothing to promote, Flit just hung around the brass rail licking up excess beer cheese.

Flitterus (as the girls at the WCTU called him) had promoted his way through college.

He had trained friends to imitate his voice, so they could answer roll call for him and he still had the answers to an old psych. test tattooed on his little toe.

Flit was staying in a tavern in Louisville where the beer cheese was extremely tangy. Everyday, when he was through stealing all the pretzels he could manage, he would leave the tavern and stroll the streets.

On these walks he passed an old fruit vendor with his horse and wagon. Nearby he always saw a fish peddler with his horse and wagon. Flitterus knew he could promote something here.

One day, as the two wagons passed each other, Flit ran into the street and swatted the horses with his derby hat. But instead of crashing together, the two horses kicked Flit and then ran off down the main street. The horses finally quit running after they had torn up all the rose bushes in the city park.

Needless to say, Flit was tarred and feathered and run out of town. But the people of Louisville still remember Flitterus J. Flurton. Though he failed at promoting fruitied fish he succeeded elsewhere.

To this day, once a year, the townspeople run some old nags down the main street and into the rose bushes in the park.

Flit's folly is now better known as the "Run for the Roses."

was out of a job. He couldn't even promote a war; the country was sick of them.

So, Flit just wandered around the country through the golden years of his life. He was a destitute man, as one stunt after another failed in his attempts to promote something.

But Flitterus J. Flurton's most unnoteworthy promotional stunt took place in the Nineteenth Century in a little southern town called Louisville.

Upperclassmen Were Considered Far Above Oldtime UK Freshmen

By ANN ROBERTS

If you think University rules are hard on you today, just look for a minute at some of the rules handed down to students in the 1920's.

Life on the campus then was probably much like it is today but pity the poor freshmen. He didn't have to put up with hazing for the rules, taken from a lecture given during Freshman Week in 1927, clearly state that "Hazing in any form is in violation of University discipline and is prohibited." But he was certainly an insignificant being in comparison with upper classmen—particularly the seniors.

For instance, "Freshmen assume a differential attitude toward seniors at all times." They "do not sit at the head of a table in any boarding house, cafeteria, or other eating place in the presence of an upper classman." These rules sound like they were pretty rough on the poor frosh but as they go on to say, "... a college freshman is a very humble and insignificant mortal and it is quite necessary for him or her to act the part." All the male freshmen were required (by custom and tradition) to wear a cap of UK's colors and the girls wore arm bands of the same color on the right arm.

Seniors, then as now, were lofty creatures with special privileges. The rules state that only members of this class "have the privilege of wearing corduroy trousers, carrying canes and growing mustaches," and only seniors could appear on campus without coats and hats. No doubt they were envied and admired by all.

Of course there were general rules then that applied to all students. For instance students were not allowed to wear kid gloves or a derby hat except on Sundays and never a sweater on campus.

Without further edification one rule simply stated, "Do not accomodate the ladies." This probably evoked some confusion and no doubt the ladies were very lonely. Another general rule applying to the men assumes that the "young men understand that gambling in any form or the visiting of any place of vice is strictly prohibited."

Students who strictly adhered to these rules no doubt successfully completed their college education and moved on to bigger and better things where it is possible they might have been accompanied by "the ladies."

A Vote For Chauvin

To the Editor:

In a recent Kernel you wrote an editorial pointing out the need for strong political parties in order to improve S.G.A. Your article was accurate and in my opinion hit the need squarely. Obviously the students at U.K. are more interested in hearing idle propaganda than in considering the merits of candidates and the merits of parties.

Several years ago a fly-by-night group called the United Students claimed they wished to represent the independents. Consequently a meek little boy named Whitehouse, and company were elected. They managed to do little or nothing during their several semesters in S.G.A.

Through the selfishness of several individuals another group broke away from the United Students and called themselves the Students Party—they were going to represent all the students. They put forth platforms that had quantity but not quality. Consequently people such as Kuester, Darsie, and Ravencraft gave many fine sounding speeches but little action in the "Monday night club" for key collectors.

A third group called the Constitutionalists have been on campus since the forming of S.G.A. in 1939. They are not quite as flashy, but a bit harder working than their fly-by-night competitors. Their platforms are not long, but are sound and for the most part get passed and do help improve our campus.

Alas, the Constitutionalists are running a gentleman who did not seek the candidacy—he would have graduated this year. He has not spent the year being nice to people and polishing apples as has his opponent Mr. Ravencraft. Stan Chauvin is running out of pure inter-

'Extremes Loved'

To the Editor:

The Democratic Party had run William Jennings Bryan, the radical, twice. Then they chose Alton B. Parker, who was a Conservative of Conservatives.

He was defeated by Theodore Roosevelt, a radical of radicals. Parker could never understand why a man like Roosevelt could beat a sensible fellow such as he, so badly.

His wife is said to have told him, "people love extremes when they are in the right time at the right place."

I have not been connected with S.G.A. or politics. Nevertheless I feel that we are here on campus to get an education and one should not be naive enough to vote merely on the grounds of who can yell the loudest for his selfish interests.

SGA Has Failed To Achieve Goal

To the Editor:

For an organization with such a tremendous potential for providing true self-government by the University's students our SGA has, in many instances, failed to achieve its stated goals. More often than not they have ascribed their failures to interference by the administration, lack of student support, or other such convenient—and correct—reasons.

To suppose that anyone is going to support an organization whose efficacy is governed by every whim of the administration is hardly reasonable; to expect support for an organization whose own members are incapable of intelligent conduct is the very pinnacle of absurdity.

The recent fire hydrant affair, involving two members of our SGA, is a perfect illustration of my point. How can we expect to have a system of genuine student government when the very members of SGA amuse themselves by opening fire hydrants?

I am not suggesting that all SGA members are such irresponsible persons—far from it. I am merely suggesting that SGA, before arrogating to themselves the responsibility of making laws, first ensure that they can obey them. If their intentions are as sincere as their asseverations would have us believe SGA might well do a bit of "agonizing reappraisal," introspectively. Otherwise, given another fire hydrant situation, their emasculation will surely be swift and complete.

Sincerely,
Jim Hampton

Cancer Drive Ends Today

More than 500 volunteers of fraternities and sororities will end their week-long educational and fund-raising drive for the American Cancer Society today at 3 p.m.

Chairman Ed Beck said approximately 25 films were shown to the student body during the week. The films were shown in all the dormitories, in two engineering assemblies, in some sorority and fraternity houses, and in Memorial Hall on Wednesday morning.

The drive for money started Thursday morning and will end today. Members of each fraternity and sorority will be stationed at several key locations on the campus to solicit the money throughout the day.

The fraternity and sorority collecting the most money will be awarded a trophy. Runner-up trophies will be given, too.

The UK goal of $2,000 is part of a nation-wide campaign for $30

IFC Votes To Exclude From Rush All Men Below 37 Total Percentile

The UK Interfraternity Council voted Tuesday night to exclude all men who make below a 37 total percentile score on the Kentucky Classification Battery (KCB) from pledging a social fraternity.

The ruling was enacted after an IFC scholarship committee reported that there was an 85 per cent correlation between pledges who ranked below the 37th percentile and those who failed to make scholastic standings.

The IFC provided, however, that students who rank below the 37 mark on the KCB, which is given each fall, will be allowed to pledge after they complete one semester with a standing of 2.0.

Chi O's KS's Take Honors

As the curtains closed in Memorial Hall last Friday night, another Miss and Mr. Best Dressed were being snapped by multi flash bulbs. As last it was over, the trembling heels of the ladies steadied and the gentlemen resumed their normal stride. The paralyzed faces, feeling that they would never again retain their normal shape, broke into genuine smiles as Barbaranelle Paxton and Micky Connors were handed the first place award.

Congratulations also go to Jane Brock and Bill Hughes who were awarded second place in the contest. We're sure the judges had a difficult time making the final decision. The Sigma Chi's put a lot of time and effort in making the Best Dressed a tremendous success.

Friday night looks like a night for dancing. The South's gonna do its annual rising as the KA's pull their Rebel uniforms out of mothballs and the ladies dig out their hoop skirts of the Old South Ball tonight. We understand that ye old Confederate flag is really gonna wave.

The TKE's will hold their Red Carnation Ball tonight and head to Louisville for their Derby weekend. Today, the boys over Lafferty Hall way will show off their abilities and tonight arrive at the Law Dance on the stroke of nine.

The Lambda Chi's are evidently feeling slightly rural as they and their dates hoop the truck for High Bridge tonight.

Tomorrow the Phi Tau weekend begins at Natural Bridge. It certainly sounds like fun. And the AGR hayride blends right in with the spring fever that has infected the campus. Hayrides always sound like such fun until I remember that I'm allergic to hay.

The Lambda Chi's have arrived home from their outing and to-night prepare for their Crescent formal. Farm House will also hold their spring formal.

The Sig Ep's will have a dessert for the Tri Delt's on Tuesday. The Phi Delt's will feast at the ADPi's and the Alpha Gams will be hostesses to the K Club.

For all the brave people going to the Derby*remember the "slow catches the swift". "The last dogge oftentimes catcheth the Hare, though the fleetest turne him", and most important, "All the advantage isn't in running fast, but rather in getting an early start." This last gem might be well to remember during exams.

Edwards Speaks To SDX

Floyd Edwards, assistant managing editor of the Louisville Times, was the guest speaker at Sigma Delta Chi's first annual banquet, Thursday, April 25.

Edwards spoke to the men's professional journalistic fraternity, on the future trends in newspapering.

He said that color photography, interpretative reporting and smaller column widths will be used more frequently in the future newspaper.

The banquet also honored J. A. MacCauley, chapter advisor, and Marvin Beard, this year's outstanding journalism student. Professor MacCauley was presented with a briefcase from the chapter and Beard received a plaque of recognition.

New officers of the UK chapter, installed at the dinner, are David Altemuehle, president; Joe Goodman, vice president; James Bland, treasurer; and Frank Strunk, secretary.

Sheep Day Will Be Held Next Week

Three Faculty Members Receive Fellowship Grants

The twentieth annual Kentucky Sheep Day will be held at the University of Kentucky Livestock Arena, Tuesday, May 7.

This activity is one of the scheduled events to be observed during the Kentucky Sheep Industry's "Open House Week", May 6-11.

Richard C. Miller, field agent in animal husbandry will be chairman of the Sheep Day program. Speakers will include Dr. Frank Welch, dean of the College of Agriculture; U. S. Senator Thruston Morton; Ben Butler, state commissioner of agriculture; and C. E. Terrill, Department of Agriculture Sheep and Wool Investigations.

Other activities of the "Open House Week" include a tour of Central Kentucky lamb producing flocks, Wednesday, May 8.

Three members of the University of Kentucky faculty have been awarded fellowship grants by the Southern Fellowships Fund for advanced study and research during the 1957-58 academic year.

Receiving the grants were Charles Pelfrey, part-time instructor in English, a $2,500 fellowship; Gordon Kinney, associate professor of music, $1,500, and Frank G. Coolsen, associate professor of marketing $2,500.

Pelfrey and Coolsen have completed the residence and course requirements for the Ph.D. degree, and will apply the fellowships toward completing the dissertation requirements. Kinney also will work on his doctorate.

Only Pelfrey plans to study at the University. Coolsen will do his work at the University of Illinois, and Kinney at Florida State University.

A native of Olive Hill, Pelfrey was awarded the B.A. degree by Morehead State College, and the M.A. in 1950 by UK. He was named to his present position in 1956.

Kinney joined the University in 1948 as assistant professor of music. Prior to this, he had taught at the University of Kansas, Morningside College, the Eastman School of Music, Ohio University and the University of Colorado. He has performed with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, and served at one time as assistant conductor of the Sioux City Symphony.

Since coming to Kentucky, Kinney has appeared as soloist composer in many concerts. He received the B.M. degree from Eastman School of Music, and the M.M. degree from the University of South Dakota.

Coolsen holds the B.S. degree from Northwestern University, and the M.S. degree from the University of Illinois. Before joining the UK faculty in 1949, he was a commerce instructor at the University of Illinois, and an assistant professor at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N. Y.

The commerce professor also was in the marketing and consulting field in Chicago for several years, working with Fry-Lawson & Co., Swift & Co., the National Bond & Investment Co., and the Marketing Device Association.

In addition to Kentucky, applicants were considered from Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

GO, VAN, GOH!

Once upon a time, when the world was really evil, and a thief lurked behind every bush, cautious men had their shirts painted on! The reason for this is explained by a perceptive saying of those days:

"Forsyth, nothing deters those rascallions about town.

They'll steal anything that isn't buttoned down."

Rough days — particularly for the shirt business, what with painters picking up all the profits. Until, suddenly, an idea of genius appeared. The button-down shirt! This shirt was actually buttoned on to the chest of the wearer, making it absolutely steal-proof!

Today, in these honest times, we still feel its influence. It is the true ancestor of that glorious style — the shirt with the button down collar! Isn't history interesting?

Van Heusen — because they know so much about the button-down — has done more with it than anybody else.

Take our new line, called the Van Ivy, for instance. Here are button-downs in tartan checks and stripes. Van Ivys look marvelous with suits and sport coats, and worn open at the neck give you a roguish look. They also have a button on the back of the collar, for authenticity's sake. See them.

Poultry Judge Team Wins Intercollegiate Contest

The poultry judging team won the 10th annual Southern Intercollegiate Poultry Judging Contest held April 25-26, on the Mississippi State Campus.

Members of the team are William Maddox, Leon Davis, William Huffman, and Henry Wilson. Prof. E. T. Wightman of the Poultry Department is coach of the group.

The contest consisted of three divisions, production, market products and breed selection. Kentucky's team won all three divisions and the circulating championship award.

Maddox won the market production and breed selection divisions, tied for first in the production division and took top scoring in the contest. Wilson took second honors in production.

There were 10 teams from the Southern region participating in the contest.

Euclid, a mathematician of Alexandria in the 4th century B. C., compiled the first systematic treatise on geometry which is still in use.

'Henry Fifth' To Be Shown By Cinema

The film, "Henry V," will be shown at Memorial Hall at 7:30 p.m. May 9. Tickets are 50 cents.

Starring Lawrence Oliver and Robert Newton, the movie, according to United World, is a "superlative motion picture capturing the brilliance of Shakespeare's original play. The film transports you from the stage of the Globe Theatre to the historic Battle of Agincourt."

Ruby Evans Hart, director of the Department of Audio-Visual Services, said the film "should be the biggest drawing film of our entire (Campus Cinema) program."

Derby Wide Open As Anyone Can Win It;
I Like Gallant Man

By SCOOP WHITE, Sports Editor

It's about that time of the year again. The eyes and ears of the nation are on the state of Kentucky, either to see or hear the greatest of all horse races, the KENTUCKY DERBY.

The 83rd renewal of the "Run For the Roses" should be one of the best in the past decade. Up to today, DERBY EVE, this year's race seems wide open. Anyone of six horses could emerge the winner. The top six to me, and everybody else, is Bold Ruler, General Duke, Federal Hill, Gallant Man, Iron Liege, and Round Table.

Federal Hill's win in the Trial certainly narrowed the once majority list of Gen. Duke fans. Round Table's great race in the Blue Grass Stakes has raised some eyebrows among the non-experts, but not among the experts. The weakest of the six seems to be Iron Liege. Calumet's double entry this year does not seem to be near the greatness CITATION AND COALTOWN were a few years back. To me, and I imagine that you have guessed by now that I am a poor non-expert in Derby picks, Gallant Man is the best darkhorse in the nine-horse field. He gave Bold Ruler a tough race in the Wood Memorial. Since the Trial, some have switched to Bold Ruler as the horse to beat. He could be since "Sunny" Jim Fitzsimmons came all the way to Louisville to get him ready for Saturday. Remember he was not in Derbytown when Nashua lost.

It's anyone's race. As for my choice, I'll take GALLANT MAN for the winners' spot. Bold Ruler will be right behind him in second-place. Round Table should take third with General Duke fourth, if the latter horse does run in the Derby. His foot injury may keep him out.

As for the story on this same page about the non-experts picking Gen. Duke, they made their choices before the Trial was run Tuesday. For those students going to the Derby, the best of luck on your picks. I'll need the same on mine.

At the request of many students, the University tennis courts will be open every day until 8 p.m. On Sunday the courts will be opened from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Carl Deaton, Morehead's star distance runner, was a late scratch from the feature mile run in the Spike Shoe Relays tonight. Ed Murphy of Tennessee was scheduled to catch the 6:20 p.m. plane from Knoxville today and be here for tonight's mile run. Let's hope he makes it.

HARRY MEHRE, former Georgia and Mississippi football coach, who now writes interpretative articles on college football for the Atlanta Journal, says this of the '57 Ga. Tech grid team. "Smart and sassy, but not quite as smooth as its immediate predecessor. They are going in for flankers, spreads with swept wing passing, and they are definitely in the sportscar field for 1957."

Eighteen Games Played In I-M Softball League

By KENNY HILL

Eighteen games were played this week in the intramural softball league.

Only two games were played in the first division of the fraternity league. Defending champion ATO defeated LXA, 6-3 behind the effective hurling of Don Mills. Bill Thompson homered for the ATO's with two men on base. In the other games KS wallop TKE, 16-2 and PSK beat KA, 14-2.

Second division play saw SAE win two games. They romped over SX, 13-3. Trailing 5-4 with two out in the last inning SAE rallied to edge PKA, 6-5. The big hit in the inning was a double by Tommy King which drove in the winning runs. SPE defeated PKA, but lost to Triangle, 14-12 in their next outing. PKT nipped SX, 10-9. DTD won two games easily in the third division. They beat SN, 15-5 and trounced ZBT, 25-4. AGR defeated PDT, 12-11 but lost to SN, 10-4.

Newman Club won two games in the first division of the independent league. They shutout DSF, 3-0. In a high scoring game, they slipped by BSU, 13-9. BSU stopped the Psychology Department, 5-4. The Columbia Falcons beat DSF, 10-9 in the other game.

Ralph Wolfe, Rex Lockard and Ed Lambert led the hitting attack as CE rolled to a 26-7 win over Block and Bridle in the second division. Wolfe had two homers. Hank Hansen was the winning pitcher. Don Rapscallions beat AIME, 22-9.

Relays To Feature Mile Run

By BOB SMITH

Kentucky track enthusiasts will see a match race between three of the fastest milers to ever assemble on the Stoll Field oval at the Spiked Shoe Relays starting at 7:15 tonight.

The annual relays sponsored by the UK Spiked Shoe Society will bring together what should be a record breaking run, having the fastest milers in the Kentucky-Tennessee area.

Competing will be Ed Murphy from Tennessee. Murphy is the reigning Southeastern Conference mile champion and is currently rated sixth among national inter-collegiate runners.

From Kentucky are E. G. Plummer and Press Whelan. Plummer is the brightest mile prospect to ever enter UK. He has already unofficially cracked the old University mile run record and will be up against one of the toughest tasks of his career.

Whelan, last year's Kentucky high school cross country champion and rated even with Plummer, rounds out the field for what should be a most exciting mile.

The other part of the relay program will consist of competition between 30 Kentucky high schools for the Spiked Shoe championships. About 300 prep school athletes are expected to compete.

Due to the tremendous entry list, it will be necessary to stage preliminary eliminations this afternoon for four of the events. There will be only final events contested at the evening session.

Admission will be free for the afternoon eliminations and 50 cents for students tonight.

Non-Experts Pick Gen. Duke

By LARRY VAN HOOSE

When the dust settles, the last Mint Julep has been finished, and the last die-hard racing fan has torn up his losing tickets, Calumet Farm's General Duke will be in the winner's circle after the 83rd running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

At least that is the consensus of the opinion of KERNEL sports writers and athletic figures on the UK campus. Calumet's entry had to nose out his stablemate, Iron Liege, and Bold Ruler for the number one spot in the "Run for the Roses" tomorrow.

The KERNEL staff gave Gen. Duke three votes while Bold Ruler polled two and Federal Hill received one vote. Gallant Man and Round Table each had one second place vote and Iron Liege had a third place vote. Shan Pac was picked by Kenny Hill to show and Bob Smith put his money on Gallant Man to place.

Adolph Rupp confessed that he wasn't a racing fan, but he picked Cliff Hagen to come in first and Frank Ramsey to run a close second. We informed him that both had been scratched from the race so he changed his mind in favor of Gen. Duke and chose Iron Liege to finish in the money.

Harry Lancaster gambled on Gen. Duke to win the Derby. "I haven't been to but about three races in my life, but I'll go along with Calumet Farm's entries," said the head baseball coach.

We then went to find Bernie Shively and after following him until he had time to choose the Derby winner, we began to realize what a poor horse must feel like after running a mile and a quarter. "I'm almost afraid to tell you my horse because everyone around here likes Calumet Farm, but I think Gallant Man will win."

Blanton Collier and Ermal Allen picked Gen. Duke to win. Coach Collier said that he was not a racing fan, but Coach Allen prompted him to answer our question.

Lou Michaels is putting his money on Gen. Duke because of his "good showing in the Florida Derby." Michaels is a more avid turf fan than a lot of Kentuckians. His choice for the Derby was seconded by Billy Mitchell, who says his money will be on Gen. Duke's

Cats Meet Vol Track Squad

The feud resumes tomorrow afternoon when the Kentucky varsity and freshman thinlies face arch-rival Tennessee.

The Volunteers led by SEC mile champion Ed Murphy will lend stiff opposition to Kentucky's attempt to return to winning ways after their first setback last Saturday, 97-39, to Vanderbilt.

Coach Don Cash Seaton figures that his Wildcats will be at their greatest strength this season due to the return to action of 440 man Paul Sloan and the sudden improvement of Jack Brown in the same event.

Despite a pair of record shattering performances by UK's Lou Michaels, the Commodores were able to extend their dual meet winning streak to 22.

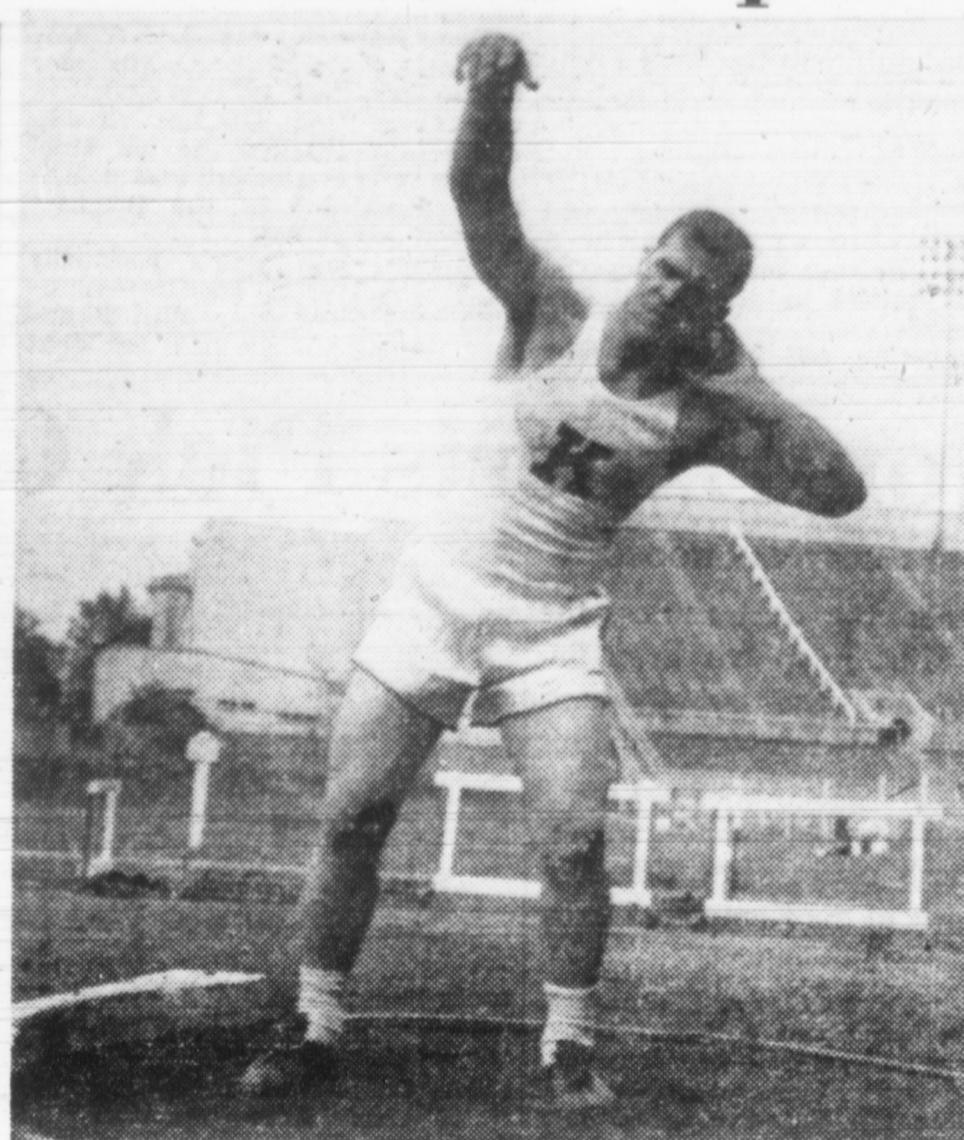

UK's Kittens also took it on the chin from the Vandy freshman group 79-56. Buddy Gum starred for Kentucky with two victories including a new fresh record for the 440 yard run.

Michaels cracked his own University record and set a new Vanderbilt standard with a distant 49'4" heave in the shotput. Big Lou followed with a record breaking win in the javelin throw, erasing the old Kentucky mark of 174'9" set by Al Bruno in 1951 with a 178' toss.

Gum blazed to a victory in the 440 in 50.8, a new standard for UK freshmen. Gum made it a double when he won the 880 in 2:06.7.

Other UK victories in the varsity division were by Jasper Creech in the two-mile run and Ray Blasingame in the low hurdles. Dave Franta reached his greatest height this season with a 12'7" win in the pole vault.

Dick Steckler also won two events for the Kittens. He captured the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Track Star Too!

Football is not the only sport All-American Lou Michaels excels in. In UK's track meet with Vanderbilt last weekend, Michaels set two school records in the shot put and javelin throw. Despite Lou's showing, the Cats lost to Vandy 97-39.

Bill Brashear scored in the mile run and Paul Smith won the javelin throw.

Non-Experts

As Damon Runyon would say, everyone likes Gen. Duke no little and two or three bobs on him would be a wise investment indeed.

I-M Track Meet

The I-M tract meet will be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, May 15-16. Ten events will be on the program with six men to qualify for the finals in each of the five running events, and four men to qualify in each of the five field events.

Cat Nine Visits Vols; Defeat Georgetown 6-5

By DON LESSLEY

This weekend the baseball Cats journey to Knoxville, Tennessee to repay an earlier visit by the Vols. In the two game set played in Lexington between the two clubs, the Vols took both ends of a double-header. The Kentucky boys will be out to avenge those losses.

Wednesday, the Cat nine won their third game by edging Georgetown 6-5 in 10 innings. Franklin Brown received a walk with the bases loaded to force in the winning run. John Crigler was credited with his first win. Also, the Kitten nine defeated Lafayette 7-3 as Tom Tippett went all the way.

Last weekend the team took it on the chin from the Georgia Bulldogs, losing three. The Cats' record now stands at three wins and 14 losses.

Statistics through sixteen games show that Frank Brown leads the batters with a .360 batting average based on 22 hits in 61 trips. He has appeared in all of the Cats contests. Pitcher Phil Grawemeyer and outfielder Bill Spicer are tied with a .333 average. Grawemeyer has batted 21 times in ten games and has seven hits for his average.

Spicer, who replaced captain Jim Morris in center field when Morris was moved to catcher, has been at bat 27 times in only nine games and has nine hits for his .333.

Sophomore Jim Host leads the mound corps in percentage with a .166 based on one win and five losses. Jim has appeared in seven games and started six of them. He has completed two and has pitched 28 1/3 innings. Grawemeyer has appeared in seven and started seven games for a one win, six loss record. Phil has completed three games and pitched 50 1/3 innings. His percentage is .142.

With the two game series in Knoxville, the Cats end their SEC season. They will take on Eastern Tuesday on Stoll Field and then on Thursday the Cats play cross-city rival Transylvania on the Pioneers' field.

UK Netmen Face Marshall

Kentucky's netmen will seek their third win of the season tomorrow afternoon in Huntington, West Va. when they meet Marshall.

Having a record of 2-3-1, Coach H. H. Downing's team last weekend lost to strong Notre Dame 9-0 and Vanderbilt 6-3 before defeating Xavier 7-2 at home Wednesday.

day. After the match with Marshall, the Cats will take off on a long trip to Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

On Wednesday, May 8, they will play rival Tennessee there in a revenge match for the Cats. The Vols handily whipped Kentucky 9-0 in an earlier match in Knoxville this season. Then from Thursday, May 9 through Saturday May 11, the net team will stay on for the annual SEC tennis tournament.

Coach Downing plans to take two of his freshmen to the SEC meet. The two will come from this quartet, Tom Hamm, Bob Lewis, Alva Sullivan, and George Rupert. A change in the varsity rankings has Bob Whalin replacing Ronnie Atkins as the Cats' No. 6 man.

Cats Will Miss SEC Golf Meet

Kentucky's golfers are going to be idle this weekend as Coach Johnny Owens has decided not to enter the team in the SEC golf tournament.

Missing the conference championship, however, does not end the Cat linksman's season as they have four more matches to play before the season's finale. Next Wednesday, May 8, they meet Eastern at Richmond.

Owens captured first place in the amateur division of the first annual Kentucky Derby Open.

Perry, Franklin Receive Awards

Two UK engineering students were recently honored as outstanding seniors in their respective fields.

Hal G. Perry was given the award for Civil Engineering at a meeting of the UK and U of L student chapters of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Harold K. Franklin received the Mining Engineering award at a meeting of the Norwood Mining and Metallurgical Society.

Perry's award was a check in the amount of one year's dues as a junior member of the ASCE.

Franklin was presented with a gold watch.

Mark Brown Receives $150 For Damages

A UK student, Mack Richard Brown, was recently awarded $150 in damages after a Circuit Court jury held that City Policeman Richard D. Roark was at fault for a traffic accident at Euclid Avenue and South Limestone Street, April 25, 1956.

The city had sought a total of $19,185.42 in damages from the student and his father, G. A. Brown of Madisonville. This would be in compensation for damages to the motorcycle, for medical expenses paid Roark and for income paid to him while he was off work.
